An Elder writes ...

What is there to like about November? Not a lot really, for most people. This time of year, we feel the effects of Autumn with its early dark nights, the cold in the air and to say the rain is welcome is an untruth.

It's a time of year when we do have to look after each other, we need to look after those who are vulnerable. Who are the vulnerable? The list is extensive because the darkness and hardships of life stretch across generations. We are vulnerable when our bodies and minds are at danger of illness, we are vulnerable when we don't have somebody to talk to, we are vulnerable when we have nowhere to go, to name just a few.

As individuals and as a congregation we have suffered the loss of individuals who we will miss from our lives and our Church. This can be a cruel time and it is amplified by the changing of seasons, as we approach the end of the year, we all spend time in remembrance of family and friends we have lost and who we miss most dearly.

To add to my gloomy thoughts, I add the disaster this world is facing with the state the world has been led into because of the want of greed of power and money. We can only look on and wonder when world leaders will stop playing war games with the human race and our planet? We look on with despair that our world is being divided by this greed, a division which is getting worse and not better.

However, there is something which lights our sparks, something which is so great, something which offers endless light and love in these testing times for us and for the world. Jesus lives and he is the light in our lives and the world.

The other week I found something which has suddenly become very special in my life at this moment. I was searching for some new music to listen to, I remembered the song 'Hallelujah', which was written by Leonard Cohen. I went on from here and listened to much more of his music and found this poet turned musician could give me the words to inspire me.

One of his songs called Anthems, has the words, "there is a crack in everything, that's how the light gets in". Words that inspired me because I know that Jesus is the light! This my inspiration for the thought that when we use our energy to seek God, imagine you hold a light bulb in your hands, when you direct your prayers and thoughts feel the warmth and light this gives to the world.

Whatever is wrong, whenever darkness seems to totally overwhelm us or our friends or the world there is a crack which we can shine through. Our faith allows us to be able to sometimes break this darkness which surrounds us but there are also those times when we need help. For those friends, for the stranger or for the world where they can't find light then we have been called as Christians to be their flame to find that crack in their darkness.

The truth through Jesus Christ, is an incredible gift which has been given to us, it's a gift which is hard to sometimes understand and probably hard to always accept, why should we be so special? This gift is of course there for everyone. When the apostles went to spread the word of God, it wasn't the words they spoke which changed people's lives it was their actions. Yes, you listen to wise words but you also need to feel the actions of the holy spirit to have faith.

Bishop Desmond Tutu said words to this effect, do the little things in life well because they are what make the big changes in other's people's lives. Help bring light to this world by living as disciples of Christ in your everyday life, let your actions be the actions of Christ.

Amen

Lewis

ELDERSHIP

Elders in Van Road are elected to serve for 3 years and given the option of another 3, after which they have to step down for at least a year.

Next year Enfys and Diane will have to step down. Please give prayerful thought as to who might replace them. Could it be you perhaps?

From the editor ...

Are you afraid of spiders?

Sitting watching television recently Rob and I saw a large spider emerge from behind the cabinet and stop in the middle of the room. We quickly put a glass over it and put it outside (though it probably wasn't impressed as it was a house spider.)

When staying in Bristol with our daughter's family, our 2 grandsons (aged 4 and 6) came rushing into our bedroom one morning in 'hot pursuit' of a spider, no glass for them they were going to catch it in their hands. To their disappointment, it escaped behind the skirting.

This time of year we become more aware of spiders in our homes and gardens. Apparently, many are looking for a mate. We marvel at their intricate webs which look particularly beautiful when the sun shines on them or they are hung with water droplets.

Every day for the past week , while washing up at the kitchen sink , I have been able to admire a large intricate web outside spun from top to bottom of the window. Invariably the spider is located right in the centre of it. It is a European Garden Spider or Cross Orb-Weaver.

Despite the wind and rain it waits patiently, continuing to repair any damage.

Some may think they are scary but there's a lot to be learned and admired from looking at a spider!

Diane

St. Andrew the Patron Saint of Scotland

November 30th

Andrew's home was Copernican, he was a fisherman. He was part of Jesus' inner circle. Prior to becoming a disciple of Jesus he was a disciple of John the Baptist.

It is not certain where Andrew preached, but it seems that he travelled great distances to spread the Good News.

One legend has Andrew building a church in Fife (St Andrews.) Another legend says that some of his relics were brought to Fife in the 4th century.

Many churches through the ages have been dedicated to St Andrew.

It is said he met his death on an X shaped cross, which became his symbol and incorporated into the Union Jack.

Oh! you who sleep in Flanders Fields,
Sleep sweet - to rise anew!
We caught the torch you threw
And holding high, we keep the Faith
With All who died.

We cherish, too, the poppy red
That grows on fields where valour led;
It seems to signal to the skies
That blood of heroes never dies,
But lends a lustre to the red
Of the flower that blooms above the dead
In Flanders Fields.

And now the Torch and Poppy Red
We wear in honour of our dead.
Fear not that ye have died for naught;
We'll teach the lesson that ye wrought
In Flanders Fields
