An Elder Writes ...

Praise the Lord

Congregations praise the Lord with prayer, said by our worship leader, or we might join in, especially, we will say the Lord's Prayer together.

We enjoy praising Him with music and song. We have our favourite Bible passages and our favourite hymns. We can glean our favourite hymns from various hymn books but some we know by heart, back from our childhood.

Songs of Praise on the BBC almost yearly present us with a list of our favourite worship songs, otherwise known as hymns and psalms. I thought that I would look at a few of our favourites.

A popular hymn for weddings in Van Road is, ' All Things Bright and Beautiful.' The happy couple inevitably tell me that they remember it from school.

All things bright and beautiful,
All creatures great and small,
All things wise and wonderful,
The Lord God made them all.

It has always been a popular hymn for children. It was written by Mrs Cecil Francis Alexander and first published in 1848 in 'Hymns for Little Children.' Mrs Alexander was an Irish lady, married to an Anglican clergyman. She was a philanthropist and a great lover of nature. She really did appreciate "All Creatures Great and Small" and other wonders of nature that she was in awe of. The hymn praises God for all the creations bestowed on us, which we should never forget ( Now only to be found in Congregational Praise.)

Another all round favourite is, 'How Great Thou Art.' Poles tell us it is in fact the most popular hymn in The United States. It is sometimes called the Russian Hymn, but was in fact based on an original Swedish hymn, entitled, 'O Store Gud,' written by Carl Boberg in 1885. The 1949 translation by Stuart K Hine has become well known.

O Lord my God when I in awesome wonder
Consider all the works thy hand hath made,
I see the stars, I hear the mighty thunder,
Thy power throughout the universe displayed.

The hymn is soundly based on Psalm 8.

V1 O Lord, our Lord , your greatness is seen in all the world,
Your praises reach up to the Heavens.

V3. When I look at the sky which you have made
At the moon and the stars which you set in their places.

This has become a great worship hymn, suited to all types of services.

Psalm 23 is the all time favourite hymn for any service. It was sung at our wedding and I think, at the weddings of all our friends. It also makes a wonderful reading. As our dear friend, Spencer once said, "A psalm suitable for all occasions."

The Hebrew title is "A Psalm by David"

V1 The Lord is my shepherd, I have everything I need.

In Samuel 1 we are told a little about David. He was the youngest son of Jesse, trusted to look after his father's sheep, protecting them by fighting off lions and bears. He was young, fit and handsome. He became a brave warrior in Saul's army. He also experienced life's ups and downs. His talent as a writer and musician brought him comfort. This psalm shows his utmost trust in the Lord. It has been suggested that this is a psalm for troubled times, but not necessarily so, it displays trust and assurance and faith.

V6 I know that your goodness and love will be with me all my life
And your house will be my home as long as I live.

This is a psalm of both comfort and encouragement for everyone. David's words are those of encouragement which we all need from time to time.

We will continue to worship with prayer and praise, thankful for music and song, aiming to grow closer to our God and thanking Him always for the gift of His Son, Jesus Christ.

Margaret Craig

From the editor ..... William Walsham How, 1823-97 wrote ...

'Summer suns are glowing over land and sea
Happy light is flowing, bountiful and free
Everything rejoices in the mellow rays
All earth's thousand voices
Swell the psalm of praise.'

I have always had a 'soft spot' for this hymn, it is so positive and uplifting, and the tune isn't bad either.

Yet, as I write, there is not a lot of rejoicing in many parts of the world and so many people would find it hard to find 'psalms of praise' in these horrendous war-torn times and unstable world order.

Refugees, the homeless and those displaced for whatever reason, are also not part of that world that is 'rejoicing.'

We ask, 'Who and where are the peace makers?' We ask, 'Why is there, often on the face of it, an intolerance and lack of empathy, love and enough support for those in hardship and distress?'

'Lord, upon our blindness thy pure radiance pour
For thy loving kindness make us love thee more
And when clouds are drifting dark across our sky.
Then the veil uplifting
Father be thou nigh.'

The 'dark clouds' are forever 'drifting' and we can find it hard to imagine it will not always be so. Yet the hymn reminds us of God's 'eternal love', (see verse 2.)

'We will never doubt thee though thou veil thy light,
Life is dark without thee, death with thee is bright.
Light of light shine o'er us on our pilgrim way,
Go thou still before us to the endless day.'

We can choose to wallow in the state of the world around us or we can try and do whatever we can to show God's light and hope in these dark times.

'Make me a Channel of your peace.
Where there is hatred let me bring your love,
Where there is injury, your pardon, Lord,
And where there's doubt, true faith in you.'

'We continue to pray and look to the light that Jesus brings.'

Sending love and blessings for the summer.

Diane.

Valleys Pastorate News

The 'call group' met with Clare during June to start planning her ministry in the pastorate. For her first year, Clare and her family will continue to live in Bristol. They plan to move to the manse in Pontypridd in the summer of 2026. She will use Shelagh's house as a base when she needs to stay over in South Wales.

Clare has offered a pattern of ministry that will involve spending October and November in Merthyr, January and February in Ystrad Mynach, April and May in Caerphilly and June and July in Treforest. She plans, as a norm, to take Thursday's off. She will share herself around the pastorate in September to help us get to know her a little better and she is booked to preach at Van Rd on 14th September.

Her remaining time (Advent and Lent) will also give her opportunity to work across the pastorate, possibly offering programmes of learning relevant to these seasons.

Everyone felt this was a creative use of Clare's time and look forward to working with her over the coming years.
